

Heather Herndon

State Senate - District I

- 1) Full repeal of SB91 and all legislation similar. APD was 5 years behind on rape kits last they told me.
- 2) Each individual must be responsible for themselves and held accountable. It's the Legislature job to uphold your rights.
- 3) Each competent individual is to decide their services that they will need. I support the funds following the individual.
- 4) We'll have to look into the medications each race has been given and the side effects on behavior to start. Organizations are only seeing disproportionate statistics because of more reporting and not all are reporting.
- 5) Protecting children is my priority. It's not a one-size-fits-all answer.
- 6) Yes.
- 7) Yes, within 6 weeks of discovery. No on mid or late-term abortions.
- 8) It's $192 per square foot just for the permitting to build a new home. Mayor Bronson hire new people at the Planning Commission. We'll see how far he arrives into solving the problem before we push in on it. For Tribal Land and other acreage in Alaska, I have several ideas and renderings. The big cost is transportation and interest rates for them. I have leads on these issues too.
- 9) Affidavit of the victim is important and preserving evidence. The penalty for lying so also be just as severe as those who truly committed the crime. It should rarely be up to the judge and nearly always up to the jury.
- 10) Take from their account inside the Public Charitable Trust. It's the responsibility of the person or individual who committed a crime. The responsibility of government is to uphold constitutional rights or civil liberties depending on how responsible each of you are. Does the government have to be your parent for your whole life because you can't be responsible for yourselves? Or can you govern yourselves throughout your daily lives? Hobbs v Locke, respectively.
- 11) Yes. Decrease stress on the system. Having program availability for those who want it, if not there by order or decision. Petition to take from each account under the Public Charitable Trust to fund budgetary shortages.
